

About BeMelodic

BeMelodic Recording Studio was founded in 2019 to help bring out the best sound for independent, Latin, Rock, Hip Hop and Rap artists in the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex.

We believe that everyone should have access to top quality audio production and strive to provide our clients with transparent, open and clear recordings. This is made possible by an amazing tracking room featuring state-of-the-art equipment engineered by Tony himself - one of the best engineers in the industry!

Our mission is: To record beautiful songs that will make our clients' music shine brightly like a star.

Our vision is: To become a leading recording studio known for providing excellent sound production services across all genres while fostering talent and creativity.

Engineer/Producer

Originally from Canada's capital of music and entertainment (Montreal), Tony's musical journey started at a very young age while performing for friends and family.

Tony's audio engineering experiences started at age 15 with basic DJ mixing. By the time he was 20, he was recording his own music using a multi-track Tascam tape machine. More recently, and after a career in the service, Tony has returned to his roots in music where he hopes to help others achieve their dreams.
